NEWS ABOUT HOJIE.

Prof. P. H. Dale and wife of Waterbury are visiting friends in town.

The entries for the races at Lancaster July 4th and 5th are unusually good.

Plans are being made for a demonstration at the raising of the Democratic flag.

H. E. Fitzgerald is talked of as a candidate for Senator in the Essex County Democratic Convention.

The parade of antiquities and horrors at Lancaster July 4th, will not be started until 8 a. m., so that it will see it.

The Dorcas Society will give a sociable, box party and promenade at their room in the Block on Tuesday evening, July 12.

The Congregational Ladies Aid Society will furnish a warm dinner on the Fourth in the new addition to the store occupied by A. Bartlett Son & Co.

A series of five views of the terrible wreck near Coaticook, taken by Rev. Fr. Choquette of Compton, are on sale at the drug store of Fitzgerald & Thurston.

Our ball team goes to Lancaster next Tuesday to try conclusions with the Lancaster team. The boys will do their best, but do not quite anticipate victory this time.

H. E. Fitzgerald returned from Chicago last Tuesday, greatly pleased of course at the outcome of the Democratic National Convention, and so are all Democrats here.

Liechan & Co. have a handsome soda fountain in the new drug store, and a nice line of fancy goods, toilet articles, etc., also a large assortment of Fourth of July essentials.

The young ladies who take part in the "representation of States" in the procession next Monday, are requested to meet at the residence of Mrs. W. B. Causebrook at 8 a. m., SHARP.

The exceedingly heavy rains of the past few days have caused much damage to the roads, culverts and bridges in town. Crops too have suffered. We have not had such rains for many years past.

The Lancaster Driving Club offers the following attractions for July 4th and 5th: Five trotting races, two games of base ball, St. Johnsbury vs. Lancaster the 4th, and Island Pond vs. Lancaster the 5th. Antiques, horrors, fireworks, etc. Everyone should visit Lancaster.

Hurray for the Fourth! Island Pond is to have a gala day, and cordially and heartily invites her neighbors of surrounding towns to assist. No other town in this vicinity offers so great attractions, (see programme elsewhere) and all can be assured a rousing jolly time.

Sunday Services at Grace M. E. Church: At 10.30 a. m., Love Feast. 11.00 a. m., preaching, followed by Sacramental services. 12.15 p. m., Sunday School; 3.00 p. m., Band of Hope; 7.00 p. m., Preaching by Rev. Joseph Hamilton, Preaching Elder of St. Johnsbury District.

Candidates for State, county and town officers and town officials having charge of elections, will do well to spend their leisure moments from now till the election in trying to grasp the new halloo law. There is a chance that it will make trouble unless those concerned take care that none of its provisions are overlooked.

Coming Again. Dr. Stevens, dentist, from Bradford, Vt., who has such wonderful success extracting teeth by the aid of the Dental Electric Vibrator, will be at the Stewart House, Island Pond, again Tuesday, July 12th. Do not miss this opportunity if you want teeth extracted. There is not the least danger.

The fifty-third annual ball at the Willoughby Lake House occurs next Monday, July 4. Each succeeding year attests the popularity of these annual gatherings at this noted resort, and this year will be no exception. Mrs. Richardson does not do things by halves, and will spare no pains to give pleasure to her guests, consequently all who attend will have a thoroughly enjoyable time. Music will be furnished by the Newport Orchestra.

The next attraction at the Opera House will be the performance on Saturday evening, July 2, by the Boston Comedy Company, in the reigning sensation "The American Flag, Touch It Who Dares." The play is intensely exciting, and is one of the most realistic ever seen on the stage, and with the talent by which it will be presented it is easy to judge of the merit of the entertainment. Don't fail to see and enjoy it.

The following from the Bellingham Bay Express, published at New Whatcom, Wash., will be interesting reading to our people:

An informal but very pleasant wedding occurred Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Butters on Garden street, the contracting parties being Mr. James M. Butters Jr., and Miss Fredie F. Rollins. Presiding Elder D. G. LeSourd performed the ceremony according to the ritual of the M. E. Church. The bride and groom made a very handsome couple as they stood before the clergyman to take the vows of matrimony. The young bride was tastefully dressed with a light tan trimmed with dark-brown passementerie and ornamented with a handsome bouquet of pure white roses. The parlors were tastefully decorated for the occasion with flowers of different varieties. Although no cards had been sent out, the friends of the happy couple had heard of the approaching nuptials, and celebrated the event with a large number of handsome presents. Mr. and Mrs. Butters are both from Vermont, where they became acquainted with each other while yet children, their friendship ripening into a more tender passion and strengthening with the years until its happy fruition in their wedding. After the ceremony was over and the friends had congratulated the bride and groom, an enjoyable repast of refreshments was served. Mr. and Mrs. Butters will take up their residence in New Whatcom.

Teeth Extracted. Dr. Stevens dentist, from Bradford, Vt., who has had such wonderful success extracting teeth by the use of the Electric Vibrator, extracted teeth for over 40 people at the Stewart House, Island Pond, for 50 people at Newport, and for 75 people at St. Johnsbury. All pronounce the Vibrator a wonderful invention. We challenge an equal showing by anything else used for this purpose. Everybody, old or young, sick or well, can have teeth extracted without being tortured and without the least particle of danger. Now is the time to have your teeth extracted. The doctor will be at the Stewart House, Island Pond, again Tuesday, July 12th, for one day only. Give him a call, he will please you.

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS. CENTRAL AND NO. BLOOMFIELD. June 28.—J. W. Stevens of Lancaster, N. H., was in town last week visiting relatives and friends of bygone years.

Last Friday the teachers in District No. 2 and 3, Miss F. Thurston and A. Willard, with their respective scholars enjoyed the ride to the Brunswick Springs highly, we should judge from the merry voices and music issuing from the loaded wagons of little folks, and older ones in care of them. Their vehicles looked finely, trimmed with poplars and wild blossoms. They will long remember the gala day with pleasure—the ride with their teachers and mates—the picnic dinner, with lemonade and candies—the enchanting music of the Berlin and Lennoxville bands and the crowd of people—who will be attractions in their eyes not easily forgotten.

Mr. T. Rowell has recently new killed and thoroughly repaired his barn.

Miss M. Currier, teacher in District No. 4, was called home to attend the funeral of her uncle, Mr. Dale (the unfortunate engineer on the ill fated train of the G. T. R.) which was held at his residence at Island Pond June 22. Much sympathy was felt for her by her many friends in the neighborhood where she has given universal satisfaction as a teacher. We had the pleasure of visiting her school and could quickly see the good work accomplished by the ready obedience of her pupils and diligent application to their books. She has been secured for the entire year. A wise step, for a good teacher, who is so thoroughly interested in her work, aided and strengthened by the hearty co-operation of parents and citizens, must result in marked progress of the school. Union is strength. How much we prize it in all good works! Miss Currier closes her school this week. She has improved the school building with newly papered walls and curtains for the windows. Miss Gertrude Fuller raised the money for the above by subscription, and the willing hearts and hands of the good people, with Miss Currier at the head, made light work of papering. On Arbor day they set out 15 beautiful maples surrounding the school house, which improves the premises greatly.

Mrs. J. Mathes and daughters of Lancaster, N. H., were the guests of Mrs. Kate Burbank last week.

P. A. Roby and L. T. Williams, as delegates, attended the District and State Republican Conventions at Montpelier and Burlington last week, and M. C. Walker, and P. A. Roby and Charles Travers were chosen as delegates to the Republican Convention, held at Guildhall the 27th.

Miss Ola Perkins is expected home this week from Salem, Mass., where she has been attending school.

M. D. Cobleigh, photographer of Littleton, N. H., with his wife, are stopping at the Brunswick Springs House for a short season. Mrs. Cobleigh is in very feeble health. It is hoped the medicinal qualities of the valuable springs may prove beneficial to her.

EAST CHARLESTON. June 28.—Mrs. Lizzie Buck, R. P. Stevens, and E. C. Danton are painting their houses.

Great excitement has prevailed here the past three days and nights, and at the present writing still continues, on account of high water at Echo Pond. There is danger of the dam breaking away and washing the village all out. There were no meetings last Sunday and Children's day was postponed for two weeks. Some have their things packed ready to start at the least warning, and others have moved many things to safe quarters. They have men watching night and day and all is being done that can be until low water, and then the dam is to be repaired.

The village schools close this week.

The high water caused by the recent severe rains has done much damage. The roads are so badly washed that the selectmen have again ordered out the road machine. Several small bridges are destroyed, and the upper bridge at the village will have to be rebuilt.

GRANBY. June 28.—Mr. E. P. Shores was induced to reconsider his resignation of the office of highway surveyor and last week was busily engaged repairing the roads, but the heavy rain has made them worse than ever in some places.

The amount of rain which fell last Saturday was almost without precedent.

Mr. Henry Marsh is not behind the times. He has been making great improvements among his buildings. His store is well fitted and inviting. He has built a new street leading from his store to the street near the hotel and station.

We believe never before has there been an opportunity, and we hope there never will be again, for our people to witness such a terrible railroad accident as occurred on the 27th last, on the G. T. R. near Coaticook. A great many went from this town to view the wreck, and though it rained all day, people gathered in crowds, by train, by team and on foot.

The United States train which planged to destruction in the washout was due at depot at 10.30 a. m. Conductor M. J. Jones had charge of the train west down, but the car in which the west down of Island Pond, driver, and George Reed of Richmond, freeman. A few freight trains had passed over during the night and early morning, and although the rain fell in torrents nothing wrong was discerned. As near as possible the facts are these: Conductor Jones said "I had heard the front part of the train with the intention of seeing the water on the track, and was standing at the door in the rear car, which is a first class coach, when suddenly I felt a check on the train by the air brakes being applied. I knew there was something wrong. The next moment the greater portion of the train went down, but the car in which I did not leave the track, as you see, (pointing to the car as it was hanging over the edge of the precipice,) and it seemed as if I would only take the effort of one man to send it where the other cars were piled. You see it is chained to keep it from falling. I assisted some lady passengers who were crying for help in their great grief. My going to the rear of the train to see the water, and to look out for bad places, which must necessarily exist after so much rain, I believe saved my life."

The theory advanced by many is that but little of the rail remained with the ties, only enough to "decide" the eye, and before the engine could reach the other side of the washout, with three cars on top of it. So completely covered up was it that Canon Foster, (who was a passenger on the train) said that when he got out he thought the engine had gone on to the next station.

Many miraculous escapes occurred. Freight Conductor C. Jones and his two brakemen, passengers on the train returning to Richmond, and were in the second class car No. 284; extra gang, foreman D. Galvin and men, were also in it. After this car struck the baggage car (this latter was piled on top of the engine) it rolled back down into the rushing water, and laid on its side, the water pouring into it. Conductor Jones being on the door, thereby making a passage way for the water, and giving the occupants of the car an opportunity to get out through the windows. No one was killed in this car, but all were more or less injured. D. Galvin the worst.

Baggageman B. Caron said, "I cannot tell just how it happened, but I was standing on the side of the car,
