

The "wisdom and virtue" of Vermont have assembled, and we believe the quality of the two bodies will average with former years.

We see by the Gorham, (N. H.) Mountaineer that our friend Col. A. N. Twitchell has been nominated for State Senator for the Coos Senatorial District.

Rev. L. H. Tabor.

In the death of the child we do not know how much of human existence has gone. It is but a shadow passing before our eyes.

Scidm has there gone a man who left so much of friendship, respect and reverence, as has the Christian gentleman whose loss we now deplore.

Mr. C. B. Jones of Spring Hill, Iowa, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm for various and painful ailments with better effect than anything else I have ever tried."

To the Editor of the Herald: Traveler over the Grand Trunk Railway met with many surprises along the line, some of them in secret, some in visits of Custom House officers, and in various other ways.

loving best and willing hands, which were reciprocated by a gallant and illustrious man.

He was a man of decidedly masculine tendencies, with a most vigorous physique and lion like voice, while in his sympathies he was as true as a girl.

He was neither a recluse, nor a man of the world. He never shrank from the duties of a citizen, nor sought preferment.

As a lay, active, enterprising man he filled the minds of many. His energy was admirable. His genial presence endeared all.

Yes, fortunate old man! Fortunate in all his pleasant relations. Those silver cords, strong paternal threads, that bound him to his own loved daughter were never lost or loosened, though woven by her who held them into the heart of another as true to the good old man as she was herself.

me and I thought of the American adaptation of England's national tune. "I love thy rocks and rills, Thy woods and tempered hills."

After dinner, lured by the bright sunlight I strolled out to catch another view of the surroundings. The first object in the village attracting my attention was a hydrant.

A foreign appearance is given to Island Pond by the foot walks over the railway tracks. They reminded me of New York's elevated railway but they have a sort of don't-touch-me look that makes one prefer distance from them in a high wind.

I had intended to go further but the last few inferences of my talkative friend induced me to return terra firma.

I am coming your way again soon, Mr. Editor, and hope to see more of your pretty village and its sociable people.
